

With Henley regatta and Wimbledon tennis just around the corner, it might be time to inject a little sport chic into your wardrobe. But don't fret, this season you'll still be looking impeccable – no track-suit bottoms or shell suits, you'll be relieved to hear – only with a sporty twist.

Streamlined blazers and light cardigans are a must in your wardrobe if you want to ensure you're ticking all the sports-chic boxes, navy and white – or variations on the theme – being the seasonal hue. You can opt for a double or single-breasted jacket and dress it down by teaming it up with shorts, a hoodie, a polo shirt and some trainers. To give your look a nautical edge – add a stripy top to the mix (check out Tommy Hilfiger and Salvatore Ferragamo) and, of course, a disarming smile. You can even wear it with your swimming trunks (as seen at the Gant by Michael Bastian show) if you want to dip your toe in that little bit further.

For that classic clean tennis look on a bright summer's day, take a leaf from Lacoste's latest collection. Match your polo shirt to your trousers and add a tennis cap, straw hat or a visor to your ensemble. And if you're on the move an oversized manbag is essential (see Iceberg, Dolce & Gabbana) to carry your tennis balls, of course.

To complete the look, you'll want to wear either plimsolls or flip flops – hessian flip flops if you want that added maritime flavour (see Dolce & Gabbana) and finish it off with a neckerchief and a glass of Pimm's.

Game on

Laia Farran Graves looks at the line up of sports chic menswear this season

FASHION NEWS

Edun's T-shirts

If you want to look good and do your bit for the planet, check out Edun, the lifestyle fashion brand founded by Bono and Ali Hewson. Launched in 2005 they make beautiful clothing whilst committing to developing trade with Africa. Available at Selfridges, Harvey Nichols, net-a-porter, Browns and Liberty. Prices start at £50

Happy Camper

For some great comfort and style, have a look at the new S/S11 Camper trainers. We love the limar suede sneaker in beige upper and matching laces. It also has a removable anatomical EVA insole to maximize comfort, while its non-marking rubber outsole prevents you from slipping. £85, camper.com

